

CULINARY ARTS, AAS

Program Code: Culinary Arts-AAS

Program Description

The Associate of Applied Science, Culinary Arts curriculum is designed to meet the needs of the multi-faceted industry we serve. Individual courses teach students various aspects of business operations, people skills, and fundamentals of basic and intermediate cooking for a wide range of different cuisines. Through a combination of lectures, assignments and an emphasis on hands-on preparation, students gain the skill sets necessary to enter, operate, and work in an expansive range of culinary fields. Students who successfully complete this degree are eligible to apply and receive Certified Culinarian status from the American Culinary Federation.
